

The Sentinel is seeking Beat Reporters

Beat reporters specialize in one type of reporting and cover a specific department or area (eg, police reports, academic departments, student government, campus housing, etc.,.) Unlike general assignment reporters who receive story topics from their editor, beat reporters seek out news in their beat and "sell" their story ideas to their editor.

All student media groups pay a small stipend (though high need positions such as this one pay more) and students may arrange to receive internship credit.

Interested students may email me or go to: http://www.kennesaw.edu/student_life/mediajoin.shtml

Thank you! If you have questions, contact the Sentinel Editor at sentineleic@ksumedia.com.

KSU Sentinel Beat Reporter

We are looking for candidates who:

- Can write accurate, clean and compelling stories quickly on deadline.
- Willing to develop sources and report on sensitive topics.
- Can juggle multiple assignments and ability to work independently.
- May take photographs to illustrate stories.
- Attend required staff meetings and regular meetings scheduled by editor.
- Regularly read newspapers and magazines to keep abreast of issues and trends that may be of interest to the KSU student audience.
- Set individual goals each term to improve your journalistic skills (For those receiving internship credit only).
