Kennesaw State University students participated at the ACM-ICPC (The Association for Computing Machinery International Collegiate Programming Contest) hosted by Georgia Tech on Saturday, Nov 14, 2015.

The ACM has been the largest running computer programming contest in the world since the 1970s, and is a multi-tier, team-based, programming competition operating under the auspices of ACM headquartered at Baylor University.

The contest is sponsored by IBM

2015 ACM-ICPC Teams:

Dr. Sarah North, Faculty Advisor